DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-50 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-50, drawn to compound of formula shown in claim 1 and others wherein M is N, namely 1,2,4-triazine, composition and method of use, classified in class 544, subclass 182, class 514, subclass 242.
- II. Claims 1-53, drawn to compound of formula shown in claim 1 and others wherein M is R<sup>1</sup>-C namely pyrimidine, composition and method of use, classified in class 544, subclasses 319, 320, 321 etc depending upon choice of other substituents, class 514 subclasses 269, 272 etc. depending upon choice of other substituents.

Applicants should note that claim 28 recites a compound, which is not generically included in claim 25 or claim 2. It appears to be a typographical/drawing error. Hence it is included in the above restriction as it is dependent on claim 25.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Group I and II are independent and distinct from each other because they are directed to structurally dissimilar compounds that lack common core such as 1,2,4-triazine vs pyrimidine core. Consequently, the groups have different classifications and require separate prior art searches. They can be made and used independently. Art, which may render obvious or anticipate one of the groups would not necessarily do the same for the other group as evidenced by the references cited in the Information

Art Unit: 1624

Disclosure Statement provided by the applicants. Each can support a patent, as the compounds of each group are capable of being utilized alone not in combination with other members listed in the Markush group. Placing all such compounds into the same claims is proper to scientific classification as they are separately classified and require separate searches. Furthermore, it would be of immense search burden to search both classes together with various substituents embraced in the instant claims 1-50, which run through pages 177 to 283. With limited time available for the examiner per case it would not be possible to a thorough search.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: See claim 8 which recites 1,2,4-triazinyl as well as pyrimidinyl species.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 1-7 and 9-50 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

In view of distinct nature of each of the inventions, the restriction is set forth in writing.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
